ABSTRACT

This study aims to design a financial reporting system for Asy-syfa Mosque using Microsoft Excel, for Accounting, based on ISAK 335 standards. A descriptive method was employed, utilizing data collection techniques such as observation, interviews, and documentation. The system design was developed by leveraging various Microsoft Excel, functions.

The results demonstrate that Microsoft Excel, for Accounting is capable of generating financial reports compliant with ISAK 335 in a faster, more accurate, and more efficient manner. Consequently, this study is expected to offer an alternative, simple accounting system for mosques to prepare financial reports that adhere to applicable accounting standards.
